The most important issue facing the Commissioners currently is infrastructure expansion vs. cost. We need to make sure we have enough skilled firefighters to respond given the proposed equipment and facilities acquisitions and improvements. This needs to be considered prior to committing to significant investment.

3. How would you propose communicating with Fire District residents about upcoming votes and decisions?
 I would like the BOFC to designate an individual to spearhead communication with our residents through email, social media, signage, print and a much-needed overhaul of our website (and the CFD's) to make it more user friendly and update it more regularly. I would love to tap into our tech savvy students, our firefighters and our residents who have website building skills and utilize their help in becoming more transparent.

What do you think is the most important issue facing the Fire District Commissioners and how would you propose addressing it? The most important issue facing the Fire District Commissioners is to ensure that the all-volunteer force is provided the best possible tools, equipment, training and facilities to effectively and promptly respond to an all hazards environment, calls for service and to save lives and protect property in the district, while train and prepare for all potential emergencies. This means physical elements like decontamination equipment, and PPE, but also support from the community and the BOFC to assure there is NO compromise in this regard. I would work with the other commissioners to provide all that is needed, with an eye on fiscal responsibility too.

We are at a crossroads in terms of potentially adding additional facilities. I believe I am uniquely qualified given my background and expertise in many facets of construction engineering. As the NCFD#1 works toward the demolition of the recently acquired vet property, my familiarity with hazardous waste identification and mitigation, and the following potential construction would be a useful addition to the BOFC. With the goal of expanding in a fiscally responsible way in mind, I am prepared to offer my experience and knowledge to the taxpaying residents of the NCFD#1.

Lastly but equally important, we must find a way to attract new members to the CFD. While our high school student members are invaluable in terms of their commitment to the Department, they are not interior firefighters until they are 18 and by then most are off to college elsewhere. While there were changes made to the bylaws recently to allow them to continue to participate fully when home, most are only available to respond during school breaks and the summer, when some have summer jobs that keep them out of town during the day.

By making the CFD a welcoming inclusive environment, perhaps we can fend off moving to a paid department which would impact every resident's tax bill significantly. As this moment, of 7 management positions, two remain unfilled. The number of drivers of apparatus, other than Chiefs, Acting Chiefs, and Chief's Staff has dropped, and the number of interior firefighters not away at school and who live or work in New Castle has dropped as well.

maintaining the highest standards of stewardship with respect to each citizens contribution to this effort.

I will employ a fresh set of eyes, strong and experienced leadership, transparency, open dialogue with fire department chiefs, firefighters and citizens while endeavoring to contribute to an informed consensus with the citizens in the district and entire Board of Fire Commissioners.

3. How would you propose communicating with Fire District residents about upcoming votes and decisions?  In the age of social media, I would use it to communicate about the issues at hand and hope that residents would also feel free to call or email me directly with their concerns or ideas. Open communication with taxpayers is essential. New NCFD#1 and CFD Facebook pages that is easier to navigate could provide the community with essential information more readily. While the addition of an email list was a first step, using Chappaqua Moms regularly with its enormous membership as well as the NCCD page would get information about elections, important issues up for discussion, and even upcoming work sessions out to those who choose to engage. A designated webmaster could provide this service. I would also like to see the BOFC/NCFD#1/CFD create a joint newsletter in both print and electronic form, linked to on FB pages, and distributed at the library and Senior Center to provide those not on social media a chance to be informed. All residents should be able to easily access information on possible future construction, acquisitions or sales of property, and efforts to provide our brave volunteers with all they need.	3. How would you propose communicating with Fire District residents about upcoming votes and decisions?  Of course certain announcements and communications are required and/or regulated by law and policy, these announcements and communications always need to be accurate and timely. I would propose to use the much improved Fire District website, New Castle Town e-newsletter if possible, non-partisan organizations such as the LWV of New Castle, local news outlets and other on-line, print and televised or streamed media as appropriate. In addition, a voluntary district email list may also be helpful for those who want direct contact from the district.
4. How many Board of Fire Commissioner meetings have you attended or watched in the last year, either in person or online?  Five in person. I have also read several months' worth of BOFC meeting minutes online and attended informational meetings held at the Chappaqua Library and at the Bedford Road Firehouse prior to the bond referendum vote in 2016.	4. How many Board of Fire Commissioner meetings have you attended or watched in the last year, either in person or online?  Several. In addition, I have reviewed and or read current relevant archived information posted on the NCFD No.1 and LWV of NC websites along with open sources media reporting dating back to 2014.
